

Casa Lumen

A 28-room adaptive reuse hotel in the historic harbor district

Casa Lumen converts a former maritime office into a design-led independent hotel. The project combines a constrained room count with premium rates, an all-day courtyard cafe, and year-round local programming.

01 Investment thesis

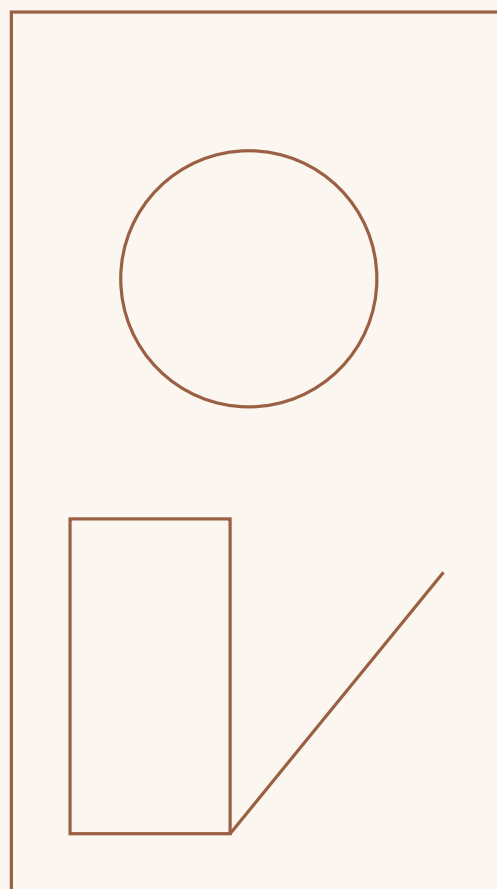

Scarce waterfront inventory and a walkable cultural district support resilient leisure demand.

02 Value creation

Historic tax credits, efficient room planning, and a local food partnership reduce opening risk.

03 Milestone

Close construction financing in November and begin selective demolition before year-end.
